

DOCUMENT COMPONENT IMPORTATION AND RECONCILIATION

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A system and method for importing and reconciling component variables with container variables in a document, includes identifying variables in a component, for each of these variables determining if there is a variable in the container that refers to a same domain concept, and, if an identification occurs, associating the variable in the component with the variable in the container.

5